Q3 Project Title: Socializing Policy Feedback: The Persistent Effects of Adolescent Program Use on Political Orientations Principal Investigator: Nathan Micatka, PhD Candidate, University of Iowa Faculty Advisor: Julianna Pacheco, PhD, Professor, University of Iowa We invite you to participate in a research study being conducted by investigators from The University of Iowa. The purpose of the study is to understand how people's experiences with government assistance programs during adolescence affect their political attitudes and behaviors. If you agree, we would like you to complete an online survey about your experiences. The survey is expected to last around 10 minutes, and you are free to skip any questions that you prefer not to answer. At the end of the survey, you will be given the option to provide your email address to the research team if you are interested in participating in a one-on-one follow-up survey over Zoom with the researcher. The first thirty individuals who meet the interview selection criteria and complete the interview will be compensated with a $25 Amazon gift card at the end of the session. Please note that if you do decide to stop participating before it ends, you will forgo this compensation. As part of this study, we are obtaining demographic and personal experience data from you. Additionally, the Zoom interview will be recorded. The recording will initially save to the University of Iowa's secure Zoom cloud storage space and then moved to Microsoft OneDrive. The audio of these recordings will be transcribed, and the recordings will be destroyed at the end of this study. The transcription will be de-identified and anonymous. If identifiable information is provided during the interview, the research team will remove it during the transcription process. For example, if a participant names a friend during the interview, then the name will be removed and replaced with "[a friend]". We would like to study your data in the future after this study is over. Your information and/or data may be placed in a central repository or other national repositories sponsored by Federal agencies. If this happens, it may be stripped of identifiers (such as name, date of birth, address, etc.). Other qualified researchers who obtain proper permission may gain access to your data for use in approved research studies that may or may not be related to the purpose of this study. It is unlikely that what is learned from these future studies will have a direct benefit to you. It is possible that your demographic and personal experience data might be used to develop discoveries that could be patented and licensed. In some instances, these may have potential commercial value and may be developed by the Investigators, University of Iowa, commercial companies, organizations funding this research, or others that may not be working directly with this research team. There are no plans to provide financial compensation to you should this occur. Your demographic and personal experience data will be stored without your name or any other kind of link that would enable us to identify which sample(s) are yours. Therefore, if you agree to participate, your anonymized data will be available for use in future research studies indefinitely and cannot be removed. Confidentiality of your research records will be protected. Data will be stored on a University of Iowa secured server and the recordings will be destroyed at the conclusion of this study. Your identifying information will not be linked to your responses during the interview or on the survey. Taking part in this research study is completely voluntary. If you do not wish to participate in this study, you are free not to complete this interest screening survey. If you have questions about the rights of research subjects, please contact the Human Subjects Office, 105 Hardin Library for the Health Sciences, 600 Newton Rd, The University of Iowa, Iowa City, IA 52242-1098, (319) 335-6564, or e-mail irb@uiowa.edu. We encourage you to ask questions. If you have any questions about the research study itself, please contact: Nathan Micatka at nathan-micatka@uiowa.edu or his faculty advisor Julianna Pacheco at julianna-pacheco@uiowa.edu. Thank you very much for your consideration of this research study.
